Subject: English

1. Read the given passage and answer the questions that follow:

From time immemorial, the basic purpose of physical education and sports has been three-fold to obtain physical fitness, to inculcate team-spirit, discipline, and co-operation and thereby to provide lasting harmony and balance in one's outlook in life. It is for this reason that in some institutions, the competition component in sports is encouraged. There, the stress is on excellence in sports and studies since the cardinal aim is overall development of personality and integrated development of body, mind and spirit.

The new education policy also seeks to realise these objectives. It outlines several inputs in the areas- evaluation of performances, nationwide infrastructure, sports institutions and hotels, due encouragement to talented sportsmen and women, and marked emphasis on indigenous traditional games. In the programmes of Action (POA) therefore, several new strategies were chalked out. A sub-committee of the Central Advisory Board of Education was constituted and its recommendations were discussed in great detail.

The sub-committee made concrete suggestions. The major among them are introduction of annual physical fitness test for all students and teachers, daily physical exercise for students, physical education as a subject at various levels, mass participation of students on monthly and weekly basis, sports funds in schools, leadership role for some categories of schools, more sports hostels, training of teachers, 100 sports colleges for maintaining and nurturing sports talent, regular yoga teaching in schools, accommodation of sports in the academic calendars, due weight age to achievements in sports and games for admission to higher courses/ classes and recruitment in services, and optimum utilisation of existing facilities and infrastructure.

The urgent requirement is the maximum use of existing facilities. At the micro level, it has to be ascertained how the present infrastructure can be utilised to its optimum level. Each scheme and institute has to be evaluated. It is most advisable to concentrate fully on physical education at the elementary education stage.

It is an accepted fact that maximum sport potential is in the rural regions. However, this repository has not been adequately exploited and enriched. All roads tend to lead to the urban areas. In fact, a major part of sport activities should be shifted to the rural arena. In the process, this will help to provide necessary facilities there.
