Trees are of importance not only to man but also to birds and animals. The branches of trees give shelter to millions of birds and forests gives shelter to numerous wild animals. We value trees not only for their usefulness but also for their beauty. They have a way to refreshing the eye and also refreshing the mind. Perhaps that is why the rishis of olden days were drawn to the forests, and they and their people chose to make the forest their home in company of nature. In modern times, Rabindranath Tagore started a school, he too chose a place full of trees and called it Shanti Niketan.

Once upon a time large areas of India were covered with forests full of numerous kinds of trees. As the population grew, trees began to be cut down for man's use. That is how the wonderful forests described in our ancient poems came to be destroyed, and a great part of our forest wealth is lost.
